BLUES TOOK THE SECOND GAME FROM BUFFALO YESTERDAY.

Manning;s Team Had Many New Faces in the Second Game - Coughlin, the ex-Senator, Played Third and Burns on Second.

Manning's rejuvenated Blues expected to take both games from Buffalo yesterday, but they fell down in the first at-tempt. The visitors waited for their openings and bumped Pardee at most opportune times and, won the game. The hits were very evenly divided, although Kearns held the Blues down by a small margin, and early in the contest it was evident that the team that had the timely hitters

The second game was a treat for the fans, as they saw some new additions to the team, and they also saw the Blues win a game.

Schaub was taken off of third base, and Coughlin, who has recently been secured from Washington, was asked to fill the bill. He was well received, as every one of his plays was of a strictly high class order. He made some sensational plays in the ninth inning. Burns made his debut on second in place of Clymer, and he showed that as a cool-headed player he is unexcelled.

showed that as a cool-headed player he is unexcelled.

He is a trifle slow, however, and had several opportunities to make double plays that he failed to make successes.

Both teams drew blanks in the first, but in the second Dillon, of the Bisons, hit to left for two bases. Diggins followed with another double. Greminger was caught at first, but the Bisons' catcher scored on the play, making the second run for the visitors. The Blues attempted to transact some business but the visitors again had the first opportunity in the fourth, when Diggins hit to right for two bases. He scored when Greminger hit for a double. Cockman hit to right but was caught at first and Greminger scored the fourth and last run for the visitors.

In the eighth Miller hit to right and scored when Halligan bumped the ball for a twobagger to left. This was the run that saved the Blues a shutout.

Haliman and Dillon were caught at first. When the Blues' turn came Hulen and Gettman both flew out to Mattle McVicker. Gremlinger started things going for the Bisons when he smashed the ball to Halilgan's territory for two bases. Cockman popped up to Hulen and the Blues come to the bat. Ganzel hit to right and Coughlin followed with a clean hit to left. 'Big Bill' made the hit that was needed when he soaked the ball in the nose for two haves, bringing in two runs. In the third Gray got a single and Mc-Vicker landed just inside the right foul line for a single. He made a poor attempt to steal second and was caught cleverly by Burns, Halilmar reached first on a wild throw by Hulen, but the side was retired. In the third Hulen got a pass, Gettman sacrificed, but Dillon dropped the ball. Gear sacrificed, advancing both runners. Halligan flew out to center and Hulen beat the ball home, scoring the Blues' third run. The Blsons got two hits in the fourth but failed to score.

In the fifth McVicker got a base on balls but was forced out at second. Gray flew out to Coughlin. Garry went to second on a passed ball and Hallman hit a bad one to Coughlin, who blocked it nicely, preventing a run.

Neither side cored in the sixth, but Ganzel made another one of his famous singles when the bases were empty. In the seventh both sides drew blanks, but the visitors tied the score in the next inning. Hallman hit for two bases on the left foul line. Dillon and Diggins were caught at first and Hallman went to third. Hall drew a pass and with two men on bases Greminger hit to left, scoring Hallman. Gear threw the ball to third to catch Hall but the ball struck the runner's foot and caromed off to the left field bleechers, permitting the runner to cross the plate and tie the score.

Hulen hit to left and went to second on Greminger's wild throw. Gettman was equal to the occasion and hit for three bases into McVicker's territory, scoring Hulen. Gear fiew out to Garry and Gettman scored on the throw to the plate.
